

HOW IS YOUR WALK

Forgiveness is not a feeling, its something you know you cant feel forgiveness, but you know forgiveness. This book is based on the book of Deuteronomy, it also explores the grace factor and whether todays believers are using it as an excuse to continue in sin, by saying we are weak and can do no better. By making excuses we gloss over what God has condemned, hoping to avoid correction. In addition, it gives insight into the heart of God and what He requires of His people. It shows the foundation upon which He built His laws, and how, through our sins and disobedience, we have strayed far from them. Although painful to hear, this book examines the mistakes of our ancestors and the way in which we are repeating history, to our detriment. Until we hear and recognise the truth regarding the wayward condition of our hearts, and turn from our wicked ways, we too may not make it home. Unless we allow our hearts to become soft and pliable like lard, it would be like trying to plant the word in a hard unturned ground it wont take root. The authors hope is that you would learn what God expects of you, and listen diligently and obey completely so that you may attain to the fullness of what God has for you, and not fail to enter your promised land. Our breakthrough will come when we die to the old and get our hearts right with God Jeremiah 30:12, 13, 17.
