

Pressure Cooker Confidence: ....How to LEAD When the Heat is On!

Pressure Cooker Confidence takes you on a true story of a phenomenal military jet flight where the two engines on the left wing of the KC-135E tanker aircraft (military version of the Boeing 707 aircraft) come completely off the airplane. Without warning the crew is suddenly faced with this terrifying life threatening emergency. How they react will determine their ability to survive this airborne crisis. The unforeseen crisis happens at night, at maximum gross weight, and on a Desert Storm combat sortie. The story takes you through the remarkable successful recovery of the airplane. The author who was the aircraft commander of the mission then takes you through the reasons for the crews success and gives you concrete examples and exercises that you can apply to your own life through the use of these principles to put yourself in position to achieve your personal and professional goals.
