

The Gospel, a Napkin, and Four Circles: Single Session Bible Study: Examine a new way of expressing the gospel. (Christian Vision Project Book 12)

Today's young people do not look at the world as their parents did, so the way we express the gospel to them needs to be rethought. But how do we express the gospel in a new way without losing the heart of the gospel that Jesus Christ's death and resurrection saves those who trust him from the death and judgment that their sins surely bring? James Choung, an experienced campus ministry worker with InterVarsity Christian Fellowship in San Diego, has shaped a gospel presentation that can be sketched on a napkin, using four circles that explain the essence of the gospel. What is different from earlier napkin tools is where it begins with God's good creation and where it ends with Christians building the kingdom of God here on Earth. Use this study and the clever drawings to share a better understanding of the gospel message.
