

Bowler Hat and Red Nose (Bluebird Readers Academy Book 2)

About the Author Istvan Csukas (1936) studied music, law and arts. He earned his living as the editor-in-chief of Mora Ferenc Publishing House from 1978 to 1985, and has been working as a freelance writer ever since. He turned to childrens literature in the mid-60s, and wrote close to a hundred volumes of novels, poetry and tales. He authored works and created characters that enjoy a cult status among the members of several generations. About the Title The members of the Wild Geese patrol enter into an alliance to find the turtles that were stolen from the Zoo. Bagameri, the damned ice-cream man, constantly crosses their path to get to the turtles first and to earn the reward. The serialised film version of the book produced in 1974 received several awards, for example the Best Children Series award in Hollywood in 1976. About the Series Our series features the translations of well-known and popular Hungarian literary works on three language proficiency levels. When retelling the stories we followed the guidelines of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages, and paid equal attention to keep the spell of the original works. The readings are supplemented by a glossary and activities. We recommend these titles to those who are taking a school leaving or language proficiency exam, who read for the pleasure of reading, or who wish to be able to talk about Hungarian literary masterpieces in English.
